

Medical Law & Ethics

6 external CPD points

With a rising number of complaints, and doctors under ever increasing regulatory scrutiny, this course aims to highlight the importance of maintaining professional standards, and the support structure for you around this area. The day will be run by 2 exceptionally experienced facilitators, Dr Nigel Callaghan, a doctor, barrister & suitable person, and Dr Sarah Hull, a doctor & medical manager experienced in dealing with performance concerns in primary care

Course structure

- One day workshop – 09.30 – 16.30

What do I gain?

- The time and space in which to work with other doctors in understanding and exploring many of the issues around this complex subject
- The opportunity to develop and practise key skills with the support of colleagues and valuable input from two experienced facilitators
- The opportunity to go through a negligence case, write a statement and give evidence regarding this case – with clear facilitator guidance and feedback
- A valuable contribution towards your ongoing learning as the course delivers six external CPD points

Workshop objectives

- Understanding the basic law of negligence
- Discussion on how to avoid litigation
- Understanding the importance of obtaining valid consent
- When you can proceed without the consent of the patient
- What to do when things go wrong
- How to write a statement
- How to give evidence in court