

Group Coaching for Clinical Directors

Introduction

A key position in new PCN networks, the role of the Clinical Director will require support to ensure success and delivery of outcomes. Miad can support this position by offering group coaching that identifies short and long-term skills and knowledge, mentoring and coaching support.

Work with our experienced coaches in these bespoke group coaching sessions after having an initial one to one session. Work with others and create a peer support network whilst developing key leadership skills and concepts, and problem solving as part of a team.

Along with the group, you will have the flexibility to control the key topics that you would like to focus on, for yourself, your team, your PCN and the wider health support network.
